Our byte section was previously called 'Eureka'! It has information about behind the scene happenings in the product world, that are relatively unknown or new. Yes, that's correct we regularly undertake short excavation trips!

MOOC - Massive Open Online Course..If you are a professional adult or someone desiring to add on to their skills, MOOC is definitely a good alternative.
Udemy is for MOOC!

Got a Minute ...?!

Have you ever wondered how long would it take to earn a doctorate? While a few spend years researching a particular subject of interest, some of us like to work on time-bound projects that may not necessarily be just applications.

In this section we write articles that are informative, research oriented and does not take more than a minute of your time to read..

We Guarentee!

There's an essential, intangible something in start-ups—an energy, a soul. But with time as the organization matures the soul is lost! (Ref : HBR review)
Would you rather work for a start-up?

The Aperture

We believe, it requires talent to find a moment & another to capture it. Our aperture section is just that! If you look for good photos to accompany your blog article or brand story we hope to inspire you through THE APERTURE

Aperture is the opening in the len's diaphragm through which light passes. It affects depth of field. Larger the opening lesser is the depth of field, meaning blurrier image background.

R Rang

We celebrate seasons!
Rang section comprises of
ShwetSai's celebrations
&.....

Whiskers n D2

There will be a specially designed comic strip for each issue of Shreni....

Without them, our Whiskers n D2, Shreni would not be complete!

*Unless out on adventure, you can find them at Mrs. Godbole's.
According to Whiskers since D2's heart is also his brain,
He is less smart than her!*
